SITE INFORMATION SHEET

Avon Dassett

- Description: Avon Dassett Quarry is a popular venue located to the North of Banbury. It is an old quarry that is used most weekends to host a variety of off-road events. Featuring mud, water, sand, rock and hill climbs there is something for everyone.
- Off-Roading: This is a classic quarry with high sidewalls and a deep central area. The perimeter of the quarry has a track around it from which the central area can be accessed. In the centre a large area of mud and sand can be soft and deep or rock hard depending on the weather. Mud areas exist all year round and a lake provides a water hazard. The quarry has numerous hills and drops to test the climbing ability of any vehicle.
- Facilities: No on-site mains water exists so please bring water for the club wheel wash. The club trailer provides toilet facilities and a burger van is usually available for snacks. For some events overnight rough camping is available – contact the club for details. There is plenty of on-site parking.
- Directions: Turn off the M40 at Junction 12, and head towards Gaydon on the B4451. After ½ mile join the B4100, turning left towards Banbury. Follow the road for approx. 2 miles, going over a long railway bridge until you come to an MOD Base (Kineton) on the right hand side.

NEARBY POSTCODE: CV27 4AE OS MAP REF: SP 417 507

- Warnings:
- On-site: Some of the slopes are severe, observe direction markings and instructions from marshals. There is a risk of rolling on some areas of the site. Some areas of the lake are TOO DEEP for ANY vehicle and will be taped off for that reason.
 - Off-site: Care is needed on the steep hill through the country park on the approach
