

THAMES VALLEY 4x4 CLUB SITE INFORMATION SHEET

Broxhead

- Description: Located just outside of Bordon, Hampshire, Broxhead Common is one of a series of M.O.D training areas around the military town.
- Off-Roading: The site consists of a large sandy area with free driving, scrub and small woods are also a feature of the area. The northern has more mature trees and depending on the weather may have some challenging mud and water feature. Hot weather means the site will give you sand driving whilst wet weather will challenge all vehicles in the mud. The openness of the site means that road going shiny vehicles will find a lot to safely amuse the family on this site.
- Facilities: The club trailer provides toilet facilities and a burger van is available for snacks. There is plenty of on-site parking.

Directions: Leave Farnham on the A325 (This is not easy to do, if you go through Farnham town centre you will probably go around at least once! – Look for Wrecclesham signs). Climb the hill through Wrecclesham and keep following the A325. After a few miles you will pass through the Alice Holt Woods and then back out into open country. After passing through Sleaford the road will gently climb with light woodland either side. Look for a small lane on the right JUST BEFORE you enter Bordon, if you get to traffic lights you missed it.

Turn right into the lane and then after 200 yards turn right into the site.
NOTE THE POSTCODE IS NEARBY – NOT EXACT.

- Warnings:
- On-site: The water and mud can be stickier and deeper than it looks. On these larger sites make sure you keep in groups otherwise getting stuck can be a lonely experience..
  - Off-site: The turn off from the road needs caution
